Programs

The PLA Conference is an unparalleled opportunity for library workers to come together to share new ideas, discuss key public library issues, and hear from innovative speakers who are shaping the future of public libraries. The top-quality programming remains the number one reason people choose to attend PLA Conferences. PLA 2024 offers more than 100 education programs—thoughtfully curated by public libraries for public libraries—that represent a diverse range of experiences, perspectives, and communities from across the country. PLA's programs are designed to be both practical and relevant, making it easy for attendees to adapt what they've learned and apply it in their libraries back home.

The full list of education programs is below. You can search for keywords in session titles; or click the "Filters" button to filter the list by primary topic, category, or speaker name. Click on a session's title to learn more. All times are Eastern Daylight Time.
